Browser Comparison

It is a very subtle difference but on Chrome it is displaying my hero image a little higher than Safari is. I can tell this by the little seeds being in different places. Overall the rest of the page is displaying the same on both browsers which is nice. Not an exact affect on my page is that Chrome has a bigger task bar at the top than Safari and thus not as much of my content is being displayed. It is very small, probably like 10px difference but still could have some affect on other content.
